

MAKING LEARNING ACCESSIBLE, INCLUSIVE, AND EQUITABLE

Elevating Educational Design with AI Book Study

Join us for a five-part book study exploring Elevating Educational Design with AI by Catlin Tucker and Katie Novak. This timely resource blends Universal Design for Learning (UDL), equity-centered practices, and the power of artificial intelligence to help educators design inclusive, accessible, and personalized learning experiences. Each session will unpack key chapters and offer flexible participation options—whether you prefer guided presentations, small group discussion, or independent exploration. Together, we'll explore how to transform our design mindset, remove barriers, use AI as a tool for equity, and empower resilient learners. Free Book for WA State educators & families. Once you register - you will receive the FREE Book survey.
